

Registry Style Ceremony

Date

<<insert name>> and <<insert name>>, we gather here today in the presence of love and the beauty of [location]. This is a moment of profound significance, a moment where two souls intertwine to create a bond that is unbreakable and everlasting.

Love is a journey, a path filled with laughter, tears, joy and growth and today marks a milestone in that journey. Today is, most of all, a celebration. It's a chance for you to celebrate all of the ups and downs and twists and turns that you have been through together. It's about celebrating finding your special someone who sees you at your best and your worst and loves you just the same.

In marrying, <<insert name>> and <<insert name>> are making the ultimate commitment to each other. The two of you came here today to affirm your love for one another and formally acknowledge that which your hearts already knew. That your lives are meant to be shared as one, that you are stronger together than you are apart, and that, for all your days yet to come, you wish to share together all life's joys and challenges, committed one to the other. Go forward knowing that you have chosen and been chosen. You will not walk alone through life.

Vows.

We come now to the words that will confirm that choice, the marriage vows. The vows that will declare to each other, and to us who witness, their intentions and commitment to their marriage.

From this day forward, do you choose to be each other's best friend and only true love?
Do you promise to fill each other's heart and feed each other's souls?
Do you promise to always seek out the best in each other, always loving with all of your heart?

The law requires that each of you declare before me and at least two other witnesses, that you are freely entering into this marriage and that you take the other person to be your lawfully wedded wife and husband.

I will now ask each of you to make that statement:

<<insert name>>, please repeat after me:

I vow to stand by your side through all of life's joys and challenges, supporting you with unwavering love and respect. Together, we will create a lifetime of beautiful memories and build a future filled with laughter and happiness.

I invite these persons to witness that I, xx take you, xx to be my lawfully wedded husband insert special words/vows if there are any xx, please repeat after me:

I vow to stand by your side through all of life's joys and challenges, supporting you with unwavering love and respect. Together, we will create a lifetime of beautiful memories and build a future filled with laughter and happiness.

I invite these persons to witness that I, xx take you, xx to be my lawfully wedded wife Wedding Rings.

Wedding rings serve as the outward and visible sign of the love that binds you together.

They are little unbroken circles of forever, your promises to stick together through thick and thin and to share the highs and lows of life.

I now invite you to exchange rings:

<<insert name>> please place the ring for <<insert name>> on his finger and repeat after me.
"This ring is a token of my love. I marry you with this ring, with all that I have and all that I am."

<<insert name>> please place the ring for <<insert name>> on her finger. "This ring is a token of my love. I marry you with this ring, with all that I have and all that I am."

Conclusion.

And now the moment you have been waiting for, the start of the rest of your lives together. May you find solace and strength in one another, and a long life together where you continue to remain best friends. May your love continue to grow each and every year.

Today your kiss is a promise. <<insert name>>, you may now kiss your wife.
